THE NEWS.

We have a report from Washington that the rebel army was in line of battle yesterday on the South bank of the North Anna, and that it was highly probable a battle was fought there to day. If there be any truth in this report, and we see no reason to doubt it, Lee is determined to give Grant one more fight outside of the works of Richmond. Our midnight dispatches will probably throw more light upon this matter.

Our army is now reported to be but one day's forced march from the rebel citadel, and in the highest state of enthusiasm.

Some details of the taking of Taylor's bridge are given, and although it was a desperate undertaking, we hardly believe it involved a loss to our army of 5,000 men in killed and wounded as the telegraph reports.

Our second dispatch gives some interesting details of the disposition of both Union and rebel forces, and the general aspect of the whole field looks very much as if another terrible conflict was about to take place, perhaps is taking place even now.

PERSONAL.—Governor Lewis, who came up from Madison yesterday evening to attend to some business connected with the Blind Asylum, favored us with a call this morning. He has recently returned from Washington, and gave us some interesting information relating to the inside workings of affairs at the Federal capital, some of which would hardly be proper to make the subject of newspaper comment in the present crisis of our national affairs. But we may state, however, that there never was a time when the authorities were so hopeful and confident that the great rebellion will be speedily overthrown, as now; and it is the determination to afford General Grant every possible support to aid him in dealing the enemy a mortal blow. To this end, the War Department is resolved to keep his army up to the number he mustered when he crossed the Rapidan, and we may add, that the Army of the Potomac, to-day, as strong as when it first drew up in line of battle in the Wilderness.

Secretary Stanton expressed to Governor Lewis the deep obligation which the Government and the Nation are, under to the patriotic liberality of the Western States, in generously offering the services of 80,000 one hundred day men. The Governor says it is not generally known and appreciated by the public, to what extent these men for special service have been a benefit to the army. While they have not been ordered to the front to engage in the bloody battles that are now being fought, they have taken the place of well-trained veterans who have been sent forward where their experience and discipline are of inestimable value. It is in this way, during these eventful and hurrying times, that the hundred day men may be of as much real service to the country as those who have served a much longer period.

It was the opinion in military and official circles at Washington, that Lee would retire to the entrenchments of Richmond when harried, and that the hero of Vicksburg might possibly be called upon to repeat the drama of the Mississippi upon the banks of the James, with similar success.

General Sherman has 125,000 men, composed mostly of hearty western boys who have been thoroughly trained to the service and are longing for nothing so much as a fair, stand up fight with the enemies of the old flag. So if Lee evades Grant and tries to make his way into some safe place in the cotton states, there will be a lion in the way as fatal to his comfort as the army that now threatens him with destruction on the banks of the South Anna.

The Governor expressed his gratification at the manner in which Rock county had always turned out the right sort of men for the war, and the right sort of men at the ballot-box.

He left this afternoon for his home in Columbus.

A man in Lowell, Mass., who was arrested for doing an unlicensed business as a wholesale liquor dealer, has settled the matter by taking out the required license and paying a penalty of three times the amount of the license, together with all the costs of prosecution, which were some three hundred dollars. The original license would only have been twenty-five dollars.

A meeting of Freemasons who have "worked up" to the thirty-second and thirty-third degrees was held at Boston last week. Representatives were present from Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin.

A contract has been made with Mr. W. Goodnow, for the construction of the south wing and centre of the capitol. It is to have the amount appropriated—$35,000—and takes the risk of receiving additional pay from the legislature.

A bill has been reported to the legislature of Massachusetts, providing for a fine of twenty-five dollars upon railroad companies that neglect to carry a certain quantity of good drinking water in their passenger cars.

Wendell Phillips says that "the gristle of the South is hardening in bone." William Lloyd Garrison replies: "If the gristle of the South is hardening in bone, it is the bone of a skeleton."

STATE NEWS.

The La Crosse Republican says: The Rev. E. Marston has arrived in La Crosse, as a Teacher and Preacher among the Israelites, who compose an influential and much respected element of our social and business community. The Berlin Courier says fruit prospects are decidedly slim this year, the hard winter killed most of the fruit buds, and very many of the trees. Choice and tender varieties have particularly suffered. It also says a full grown infant child was found dead on the river bank, on Thursday last, just at the edge of Waushara County. No clue has yet been found to clear up the mystery and undoubted iniquity. We learn that an inquest was decided to be a useless expense, and was therefore dispensed with. The young ladies of Baraboo, to the number of sixty, have signed an address to "Every Manly Heart," urging enlistments for the hundred day service. The Madison Patriot says Capt. Allen's one hundred day company numbers a not many. "The boys are all eager to get off to the big wars, and are a credit to our city."

"The Sparta Herald says the past week has been one of unusually warm weather early in the season. For two or three days last week the mercury stood at noon, at 95 degrees in the shade. This, for May, is "extra hot." The Universalist Society of Monroe, for the purpose of raising money to pay off a debt resting against their new church, and for putting up a spire, held a festival in the basement of the church on Thursday evening, May 26th, realizing from voluntary contributions and otherwise, the snug little sum of fourteen hundred and thirty-five dollars.

The Madison Journal says a large and interested audience at the Congregational church yesterday listened to the opening discourse of Rev. L. E. Matson, the new pastor of that city. With an attractive style both in the matter and manner of delivery of his sermons, of marked ability, and earnest and cheerful piety, he promises to be a valuable acquisition to our community. The Madison Journal says the 40th Regiment at Camp Randall is getting into shape. The positions of most of the companies have been assigned. The Janesville company is A. Beloit B. Milton C. and Madison University D.

The Thunder of our Artillery in Richmond.

Yesterday was a day of excitement, but of very little news. There was great demonstration, but little execution. Soon after daylight the city was awakened by the dull, heavy roar of the enemy's guns, that resounded from one end of Richmond to the other. It reminded one of the time when the city was beleaguered by McClellan, and the sensation was not pleasant. There was a universal inquiry what it meant, but no one could answer. So deceptive is the sound of cannon in a city, that it was assigned to all the different points of the compass. Some said it was on the Brooke Turnpike, some on the Meadow Bridge road, some that it was on the river below; but the general story was that it proceeded from fighting going on at Drury's Bluff. So the rumors ran for the morning, until it became pretty well settled that the firing was down the river. —Richmond Enquirer.

The Southern Army.

From Forney's Washington Chronicle

Any man who fancies that we are going to get to Richmond without further bloodshed, is a fool. The rebel army of Virginia is composed of the elite of the southern people. It reeks in its ranks men of education and position, full of the pride of family, and accustomed to exaltation into a God-like virtue. They are burning with a passionate antipathy to a people whom they have thoroughly misunderstood, formerly despised, but are now rapidly learning to respect. They are not to be cowed, though, when thoroughly vanquished, they will have the manhood to own it. But until they are vanquished they will fight with an energy and a desperation that most command the admiration of every heroic spirit, even while despising their folly and despising their cause. The body of Lee's army is made up of veterans, who are used to exposure, familiar with hardship, injured to discipline, and are unshaken by the thunders of battle. Such troops can be beaten only by a succession of desperate struggles. Nor are they likely to become demoralized. They will yield to an inevitable necessity only when they recognize it as inevitable. That they will be made to feel this we have not the slightest doubt.

Gen. Fessenden, son of the Senator, is on his way home from New Orleans, having suffered the amputation of a leg.

RELIGIOUS.—There will be services in the Baptist Church, to-morrow morning and evening.

A CHRISTIAN COMMISSIONER brother was congratulating a wounded man upon the fact that he owed the salvation of his life to a pocket testament which happily intervened between a rebel bullet and his short ribs. He promised to give the soldier another testament, and hoped it would be instrumental in saving not only his life, but his soul. His remarks were overheard by a New Yorker, who was suffering from a slight, but smarting wound in the side, and expressed himself as follows: "Look here, partner, if it had not been for a mere book I don't know where I'd have been. It didn't hurt much, but it knocked the use of spades and kick higher than a kite. Can't you get a feller a new pack?"

THE WELL-KNOWN Virginia Herald says the extraordinary bloom of the apple trees this spring is the subject of remark in the newspapers of all that region. If nothing further happens there will be a tremendous crop of apples.

Mr. MANTON Marble, the alliterate and rather thin young man who calls the New York World, after being successfully delivered of a three column epistle to Old Abe, all at his own, proceeded to Rochester and got married. —Chicago Post.

ADJOURNMENT OF THE CIRCUIT COURT.

The Court adjourned at 12 o'clock to-day until the 24th of June next.

REV. M. FARRINGTON will preach to-morrow, in the Court Room, in Myer's block, at 11 A. M., and at 7 P. M.

FIRST OF THE SEASON.—The little woman who keeps such a rare variety of fruits and vegetables, just below the post office, received this afternoon a lot of fine strawberries, the first of the season in market.

WOUNDED OF THE 22d.—Mr. Lake of Harmony has received a letter from his brother in the 22d regiment, under Sherman, giving the following casualties in Co. "E." of that regiment, in the recent battles.

Wanted.—Charles Beard, Peter Fifer, H. E. Warren, Thomas L. Underwood.

A. B. C.—The three Rock county companies in the 40th regiment are lettered as follows: Janesville company A, Beloit B, and Milton C. "Old Rock takes the cakes."

By the way, isn't it a notable fact that while Milwaukee, with nearly double our population, can only squeeze out one company, we send three?

SOMNAMBULISM.—There was a case of night walking, last night, at a hotel not far from the park, which came near being very serious in its results. It seems a young man arose from his bed, stepped out of his window on to an adjoining building, and walked along toward the rear of the house, when the glare of a light from a window he was passing startled him so that he stepped suddenly aside and fell to the ground, a distance of 12 or 15 feet! His injuries are quite serious. —Expensive adventure!

SENTENCE OF PRISONERS.—The prisoners who plead guilty yesterday were sentenced as follows to-day:

Hannah Brown, keeping house of ill-fame, was fined $100 and to stand committed till paid.

Louisa Rivers, same offense; fined $80, and to stand committed till paid.

Collin L. Daggett, larceny; sentenced to two years in State Prison.

Thaddeus R. Fox, larceny; two years in State Prison.

CONCERT OF THE HOFFMANS TO-NIGHT.—The concert of the Hoffmans at Luppin's Hall, last evening, was an admirable success, not only in point of numbers present, but in the excellence of the entertainment. The voice of Madame Varian is surpassingly sweet and rich, and her manner upon the stage is so easy, graceful and winning as to attract all hearts to her. She was repeatedly called out, and responded cheerfully, giving two patriotic pieces which sent a thrill of pleasure through the entire audience. As for the piano music by Mr. Hoffman, it was exquisite. Such execution and such music from a piano! It was wonderful.

At the earnest desire of a large number of our citizens they have been induced to give another concert to-night, which will consist mainly of patriotic pieces. We shall be disappointed if they are not greeted by a house full.

OR COURSE WE WILL.—The following card has been sent us, with the request that we publish it. Most assuredly we will, for its tendency is to benefit the brave boys who are to-day struggling with their own energy for the salvation of the country. We feel that while they are doing so much for us we cannot do too much for them:

Editors Gazette:—Will you please publish the following card in the Daily and Weekly?

The thanks of this Society, in behalf of our suffering soldiers, is due Mrs. S. W. Fisher, of Center, Miss Anna Blood, and Miss Lois Jones, of the town of Janesville, in assisting the committee in collecting supplies for the hospitals. I will state for the gratification of those interested, that we have forwarded five barrels of eggs, four boxes containing fruit and wine, and two firks of butter.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—The Enquirer publishes the following despatch:

SOUTH SIDE NORTH ANNA NEAR JERICO BRIDGE, May 25, 2 P. M.—The rebels are in our front and prisoners have been taken during the last 21 hours from three rebel generals, Ewell, Hill and Longstreet. Over 400 prisoners were taken from the brigade of South Carolinians by the Pennsylvania Reserves under Crawford who made a charge on our extreme right after Warren had crossed the North Anna on the road leading to Beaver Dam. Our troops have torn up and completely destroyed nearly six miles of track on the Va. Central west of Senton's Junction. We are now but one day's forced march from Richmond, in a fine open country. There is plenty of good pasture for our horses, but nothing for the men except what has been brought along. The enthusiasm of our army knows no bounds. The condition of the rebels, judging from their wounded prisoners falling into our hands, is in very bad condition. The weather is intensely hot.

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—The Evening Telegraph has the following special:

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Moseley's Guerrillas have been devoting the last ten days to the entire and complete destruction of bridges from Union Mills down the railroad. The absence of our forces afforded them a clear coast for their operations, in which they were aided by farmers all along the road whom we have protected and supported all winter.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The Philadelphia Enquirer's account of the attack on the woods defending the Taylor Bridge, crossing the North Anna, says, no troops could live under the fire from the rebel guns. A direct assault from the front was therefore out of the question. Our troops were marched up in two columns, a brigade on each side of a wide interval through which the rebel shot and shell plunged, tearing up the earth fearfully. Our troops got within distance, and like tigers they leaped upon their prey, and with unloading guns brought the bayonet to bear upon the entrenched enemy, killing and capturing all who did not escape.

The movement was watched by Guns Hancock and Birney opposed to a heavy shell fire, and the former expressed himself in the most enthusiastic terms.

New York May 27.—There are rumors of a battle on the North Anna.

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—A special dispatch to the Bulletin says according to an extra Washington Republican issued at 4 o'clock, Lee was in line of battle this morning on the south bank of the North Anna, and that there was probably a battle to-day.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

New York, May 27.—The Times' New Orleans correspondent says that Gen. J. A. Hamilton has arrived there and gives a deplorable account of the state of affairs in Texas. The withdrawal of a large force of troops from Texas will place the unionist in a precarious position. They are already in a frightful condition. Whole families, who not long since enjoyed all the comforts of life, are now reduced to beggary. The able bodied men were run off by rebel conscription and their families are left without protection.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Special to the Post.—The Committee of Ways and Means have reported the new tariff bill.

The duty on woolen goods is 20 cents a pound and 30 per cent. ad valorem. The duties on cigars and tobacco are fixed as follows: Cigars range from one dollar a pound and 30 per cent. ad valorem to $2.50 a pound and 60 per cent. ad valorem, according to value.

The finance committee of the Senate agreed to the House resolution bonding extra duties paid on goods entered on the 30th of April, and providing that goods in and shall only be subject to duties at the time they were bonded.

A BANK ROBBERED.

New York, May 27.—On the night of the 25th of May the Tioega Co. Bank at Pennsylvania was robbed of $20,725 in U. S. bonds, gold, greenbacks and red currency of the bank. Payment of the bonds is stopped. $500 of the amount is in Special deposits of five-twenty bonds. A reward of $3,000 is offered for the recovery of the property, and $2,000 for the detection of the burglars.

Interesting Details of Movements

WHAT THE REBELS SAY!

Grant Retreating to Richmond!!

ANOTHER FIGHT IMPENDING!!

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

The Tribune's special, near Hanover Junction 25th, 9 a. m., says there has been no general engagement thus far, although our advance beyond the possession of the south bank of the North Anna, has been retarded by the presence of the enemy. Skirmishing continued throughout the entire day, and there was hardly an interval during which artillery was not engaged on either side. Hancock before night had thrown his entire corps across the river on the left, near the railroad, and our position was taken a mile and a half in advance of the river, along Ball Marsh Creek. The 9th army corps commenced crossing late in the day, and all was over last night.

Preparations were made for an assault on the enemy's works towards evening, but the sky rapidly darkening with clouds which gathered and burst in a most furious storm of thunder and lightning and rain and most outbursts of heavy artillery included, superseded the attack which was to have been made. This morning the sky was clear and the weather warm.

Warren holds his position along Gordonsville road on the right. We have several lines of the enemy's works which they seem to have abandoned without very objectionable result, but their present position is a very strong one. It is impossible to do without a reconnaissance in force, or a battle, how strong the enemy is in front, as it is generally believed that after opposing us long enough to gain time, they will fall back again toward Richmond.

The enemy destroyed during yesterday morning a large railroad trestle bridge across the North Anna.

Grant's Headquarters are beyond North Anna near Jerico Mills. Sheridan, with his cavalry, have been heard from, and have made a most excellent report of themselves.

They have been circulating around Richmond, destroying a vast amount of property and rendered useless for some distance the Danville Railroad. The enemy's army are entirely unable to offer them any opposition.

LATE.—Our right has not yet been able to communicate with the left this side of the river. The enemy are now reported to be confronting us.

Tribune's Special, Headquarters 11 A. M., 25.—At the same time that Ripley's division carried the rebel rifle pits and North Anna bridge, our right wing under Warren advanced cutting the Va. Central and establishing himself in position. The rebel lines form two sides of a triangle, its apex being opposite the spot where Burnside crossed on the night of the 24th. From the apex of the rebel line its right line extends in a northeasterly direction across the Fredericksburg Railroad at an angle of 45 degrees, and covering the junction. The left wing extends in a southwesterly direction cutting the central railroad and facing northward. Hancock confronts the enemy's right wing on our left and extends his line parallel with that of the enemy across the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad. Burnside's line is in position on the left of the enemy's works, and facing outward. The enemy's works in front of Hancock can only be carried with great loss.

New York, May 28.—The Richmond Examiner contends that "it is Grant that is on the retreat, and Lee pursuing." It says Lee followed Grant from the Wilderness. He is now the last to move, and is the pursuer, not the pursued from Spottsylvania. It is true that by both movements these armies have been brought nearer Richmond, but for Lee it was necessary by configuration of the soil, and the line on these rivers which he had resolved to defend.

FROM THE SOUTH.

New York, May 28.—The war correspondent of the Richmond Examiner tells us that Lee left Spottsylvania Court House. To say a reconnaissance was made, and an assault upon the Union works ordered, when the occupants were driven from them. It was not discovered, he says, that the enemy were rapidly moving to whole army on our right flank, and had been since day-break, the force in our front being a mere handful who had been left to keep up appearances. As soon as his reconnoissance was over, everybody and everything was on the move with us.

FROM CAIRO AND BELOW.

CAIRO, May 27.—Steamer Hillman from Memphis arrived yesterday evening. She is a fine steamer of 600 tons for St. Louis. The Hillman was fired into at Tevers Bend. Two shells struck her and one exploded near the boiler. No one injured. The rebels are said to have 25 steamers up the Red river above the farthest point reached by our army.

Gen. McArthur's command returned to Vicksburg on the 23d. He had no engagement with the enemy of importance. A few prisoners were being brought in. There was great excitement in Vicksburg on the reception of news from Grant's army.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

4 O'clock P. M.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

New York, May 28.—Times special, dated headquarters, Army of the Potomac, May 25th, says this morning finds our advance pushed three miles south of the North Anna river and across the Virginia Central Railroad, which has been effectually destroyed. No engagement has yet occurred.

The main body of the rebels appear to have gone back to the South Anna, which is a line they have been long preparing and mean to defend to the last. Their advanced line rests on Long Creek, 10 miles north of the South Anna.

FROM MISSOURI.

St. Louis, May 28.—Cash receipts of the Sanitary Fair up to Thursday night are $10,000. This does not include any anticipated donations in way of which notice of shipment has been received; nor the Swiss farm tickets, thirty thousand of which have been sold, nor any large schemes in which shares are being sold. The fair will continue open during next week.

ITEMS FROM THE BELLOIT JOURNAL.—The company of 100 days' men that went from Beloit are to belong to the 1st Wis. Reg., commanded by Col. Ray. Prof. Blaisdell, of Beloit College, is to be Chaplain, and A. L. Field Esq., one of our prominent citizens, Quartermaster of the same Regt. Capt. M. W. Patten, Co. I, 22d Wis. Regt., was wounded in the battle of the 15th, at Hedges, Co., and died on the 19th, and was buried there. He was but 20 years of age, was well known here and regarded as a young man of promise.

On Thursday, the 12th inst., the dwelling house of Hiram Raymond, of Turlington, was destroyed by fire with the most valuable part of its contents. The origin of the fire is unknown. It occurred about 3 o'clock p. m. Loss $1,200 to $1,500 with no insurance.

Major W. P. Moore, from this place has been made Lt. Col.

Alexander Spencer, from this place, is reported to have been involved in one of the battles near Spottsylvania, and is now a prisoner in the hands of the rebels.

A FEMALE RECRUIT.

Some stir was caused in camp yesterday by the discovery of a female recruit in the Beloit company. She was unknown to any of the company, and after enlisting did not make her appearance till the company started for Madison.

On arriving here her voice and movements led to suspicion, and on being questioned, she avowed her sex and was dismissed from camp. She was a German woman, and according to her story a resident of Galena, and has a husband in the 9th Illinois. Her patriotism outran her discretion. Not even the most patriotic Northern localities have yet sent so many men to it as it is necessary for the women to turn out. —Madison Journal.

CARS are again running from Aquia creek to Fredericksburg, and as General Grant moves "on to Richmond," he will be closely followed by the track layers.

INSURE WITH THE PHOENIX INSURANCE COMPANY, HARTFORD.—Our mode of adjusting losses. Feeling it a special duty to insure with the Phoenix Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., I take great pleasure in expressing my thankfulness for the promptness and liberality they have exhibited in honorably adjusting and paying my claim, for loss sustained by the total destruction of my brick store building and stock of merchandise contained therein in Harrodsburg Ky., a few days since, and upon which I had an insurance in the PHOENIX.

I am to-day in receipt of the amount of my claim $9,500 sixty days before the same was due, according to the terms of the policy, which is satisfactory evidence in my mind that the PHOENIX is the Company to do business with.

After having played on the Piano of Mevrs. Kuase & Co. it is impossible not to bear testimony to their qualities, which have acquired for them the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Pianos of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their qualities. The bass is powerful without harshness, and the upper notes sweet, clear and harmoniously melodic (crystaline); and I do not hesitate to express in regard to these instruments my entire satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal not superior to the best constructed in Europe or of the world by the most celebrated makers.

Respectfully,
J. M. GUTHRIE, Esq.

RELIGIOUS-MISCELLANY.

INNOCENCE AND SAINTLINESS.—Our early introduction is nothing more than ignorance of evil. Christian life is not a retaining of that ignorance of evil, nor even a retaining of it again. We lose our mere negative saintliness. We put on a firm, manly holiness. Human innocence is not to know evil—Christian saintliness is to know evil and good, and prefer good. It is possible for a parent with other fastidious refinement, to prolong the duration of this innocence unattainable. He may lock up his library, and prevent the entrance to forbidden books; he may exercise a jealous conservatism over every book and every companion that comes into the house; he may remove a public journal from the table, lost an eye may chance to rest upon the contaminating portion of its pages; but he has only put off the evil hour.

He has sent into the world a young man of eighteen or twenty, ignorant of evil as a child, but not innocent as an angel who abhors the evil. No, we cannot get back our past ignorance, neither is it desirable we should. No sane mind wishes for that which is impossible. And it is no more to be regretted than the blossom is to be regretted, when fruit is hardening in its place;—no more to be regretted than the slender gracefulness of the sapling, when you have got instead the woody liber of the heart of oak of which the sapling is made;—no more to be regretted than the green blade, when the ear has come instead, lying down in yellow ripeness.—Rev. F. W. Robertson.

WHAT THE LORD SAYS TO THE BELIEVER.—He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty; he shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust. Because thou hast said, The Lord, which is my refuge, even the Most High, thy habitation; thou shalt not offend thee, neither shalt any plague come nigh thy dwelling. He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.—Psalm 91.

Be still, and know that I am God. Psalm 46:10.
